WASHINGTONVILLE LOCAL GLEANINGS

By Peter M. Herold.

More Football Notes.
Our first team, accompanied by a few of their friends, journeyed by interurban cars to the Ohio river town of Wellsville, the home of the late lamented Rev. Alexander Clark, last Saturday and there played a good game of 12½ minute quarters. The teams agreed among themselves, but the rooters were not choicely in the use of epithets, nor did their referee give satisfaction, but in spite of the rank divisions, we held them even, and when they play the return game here we can show them a few points in good citizenship, even if "Bingville" is partly in wet territory and has no shanty boats. Organized labor or has a regular order of business, while scab labor has not. Following is the score and lineup:

Washingtonville 11 Wellsville 11
Daniels-Thorp L. E. Morehead
F. Candler L. T. Green (capt)
Passage L. G. Rogers
P. Candler L. G. Cullion
Frederick-Babb R. G. Irons
East R. T. Conner
W. Stouffer R. E. McGuffin
R. Stouffer R. E. Wilfong
Darrell L. H. Zeiner
Indermill L. H. Todd
Welkard F. B. Reed
Sub-Densmore, Scott, O'Connor.
Referee—Broderick and Stouffer.
Touchdowns by Welkard and Fast; Morehead and McGuffin.
The following lineup played a friendly game here Sunday afternoon to a large crowd. It will be noticed that this is our second team:
E. Palestine 6 Washingtonville 24
Atkinson L. H. Atkinson
Augustine F. B. Welkard
McGuffin R. T. Senhiser
J. Turner Q. B. Senhiser
Flynn J. R. Darrell

Rev. M. C. Grimes preaches here each Sunday morning and evening. A fall of slate in the Millville mine stopped work there Friday and Saturday.
Ohio is the leading pottery state, and Columbiana county furnishes its full quota.
Mrs. Bertha Tellow of New Castle spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lewis.
Sylvanus Lacy and wife, formerly of this place, have moved their household goods from Salem to Alliance.
The Pennsylvania Co. has a corps of surveyors at work making a new survey from Summitville to Kensington.

Mrs. Maud Meeks and children of East Palestine spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Ed. Lewis and wife.
There will be no more hunting in Ohio until the 15th day of November, when the quail and rabbit season comes in.
The election ballots in Carroll county cost an average of $2 per 1000, in Stark county the cost price is $4, and in Columbiana county it is $6.
Mrs. J. C. Fitzsimmons and daughter Mary spent two weeks with relatives in Pittsburgh during the election, and returned home Saturday.
Ice has formed here a few mornings during the past week. "The frost is on the pumpkin," and other things. We had snow before this time last year.

Cold storage houses in cities are filled with apples and the country supply is scarcely touched. The country could put away a large stock and not try to sell them at the prices offered.
Chas. Herron has loaded about 600 bushels of potatoes on cars for shipment by Mrs. E. Stouffer at 50 cents per bushel. Some others are retailing them about town for 60c per bushel. These prices have prevailed in this vicinity for several years at digging time.

The score by innings of the World's Championship was received at Welkard's store last week. "Rah for Phila!" New York scored one each in the first and last innings. Phila scored 1 in the third, 4 in the fourth, 1 in the sixth, 1 in the seventh, and carried the championship with a whirl—13 to 2.

Miss Jennie Maxwell entertained the Independent club Friday night. They all came masked and remained so part of the evening. The main feature of the occasion was a "jack of all trades" game. The large town in the county derive a lawful revenue will let Lisbon continue to grow fat on fines?

Mrs. Caroline Lippitt (nee Ashman) widow of the late Joseph Lippitt of Millville, died Saturday forenoon, following an operation for gall stones, aged 65 years. She is survived by her husband's sons and daughters: Herbert Lippitt, Colorado Springs; Gerald Lippitt, Greeley, Col.; Mrs. Ada Howells, Jacob R. Lippitt, Wm. Lippitt and John Lippitt, all of near Millville, and Mrs. Kate Ford of Durham, England. The following brothers also survive: James Ashman, Alliance; Jacob Ashman, Van Couver, B. C.; Jacob Ashman, Mansfield and Wm. Ashman of California.

Elmer Miller has moved to Marquis, J. C. Welkart was in Lisbon Tuesday getting election ballots.
Mrs. John Stewart of Salem is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Welkart.
Job Babb is laid up with rheumatism and a severe cold, having hemorrhages at times.
Miss Ora Hoffmaster, a trained nurse of Enon Valley, spent Tuesday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Andrew Muir.
The case of Thos. McIntosh, as guardian for John Baghurst vs. The W. H. Mullins Co. has been set for hearing at Lisbon Thursday, Nov. 9.
Alonso Culler has completed his semi-annual rounds as firewarden and found the property of this village in comparatively safe condition as to fire.

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. Church met at the home of Mrs. L. Fitzpatrick Wednesday night. They are making a silk quilt of their bazar to be held in the near future.
Since the old church has been placed upon its new location a basement is being excavated under the east half of the building, presumably for a mayor's office or a school.
The Uptown kids played the Stump-ton football eleven Monday afternoon and defeated them 18 to 10. The game appears to be contagious among all ages and nationalities.
Salem parents are using many Faber pencils in sizing up the alleged mismanagement of public schools. This is questionable propriety, in view of the fact that pupils get to read of their parents' discontent.

Miss Margaret Redinger, writing to her parents here from the female college, says that she is taking the regular high school course, including German, and that her exercise consists in long walks in charge of a female teacher.
Fred Redinger, Jesse Scattergood and Dennis O'Connor were in Cleveland Monday viewing the Isaac Welsh brewery, and saw $200,000 worth of hops, a train load of malt and other things which go toward making the output of that large establishment.

Salem Herald: "Paul Senhiser of Washingtonville has accepted a position as clerk at the Stark Electric depot, and has assumed his duties." Paul is a trustworthy young graduate of our high school and his many friends here wish for him the best upon the market.
Prof. Chas. B. Galtbreath, for many years state librarian and well known in this community, says that if the temperance question "the initiative and referendum" are not placed in the body of our new constitution to be voted upon in 1912, they will be defeated if submitted separately.
Sciot County, Lawrence counties voted on Thursday; Athens got under the umbrella on Saturday; Wyandot voted on All Hallows' even, Marion Nov. 1; Pickaway Nov. 2, and Columbiana will vote Friday, Nov. 3. The dates have not been set in Ashtabula, Warren, Pike, Meigs or Perry counties.

We stated last week and repeat it now, that the "Busy Bee" society of the Methodist church will serve chicken pie and many other good things to eat in Fisher's hall Saturday evening of this week. The East Liverpool football team will eat supper there, and will give us an opportunity of seeing their lineup.
E. R. Silver, the Alliance contractor, was here Wednesday making out the plans for the new M. E. Church, which will soon be commenced. Mr. Silver had just come from Columbus where he consulted the state authorities as to the safety, sanitation and ventilating of the architect's plans. They are now o. k. and work will proceed.

The circuit court recently in session at Lisbon reversed the judgment of common pleas court in granting Mrs. E. Stouffer $2,500 against the Buck coal mine. And also reversed the judgment of the lower court in granting Chas. Snyder a judgment of $4,000 against the Card & Prosser Co. "Law's delays" is one of Hamlet's arguments, in his soliloquy, for commencing the trial. Miss Ethel Roberts and Mrs. Chas. Stouffer, Alfred Guehmann, Harry Stouffer, Geo. Firth, John Woods, Charles Bossert, Ed. King, Harley Culler, Jos. Thorp, Harley Roller, Harold Tellow and J. N. Paisley accompanied our football team to Wellsville Saturday afternoon to see them play the Ohio river team and their referee, and yet had an even score.

"Wellsville is Outplayed," is the headlines of a Salem News item, Monday, which says: "Washingtonville's first eleven played an 11 to 11 tie game at Wellsville Saturday afternoon. Wellsville's boys, but the referee aided them in escaping defeat. Two touchdowns scored by Washingtonville were not allowed, the referee finding some flaw in both plays and taking the ball several yards back into the field."

Alexander McIntosh, a native of Scotland and a coal miner by occupation, died of Bright's disease at his home in the southern part of town at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, aged 53 years. He is survived by his widow, one son and two daughters, Hugh, Muriel and Jeanette; besides his aged mother and two brothers, Thomas and Robert, and a sister, Mrs. Jean Cooper of Johnston, Pa. Funeral services at his late residence at 1:30 this (Thursday) afternoon, followed by interment by the side of his father in Oakdale cemetery at Leontonia.
As Washingtonville taxpayers will soon erect a new school building, it may be interesting to note that Adams township, in Champaign county, Ohio, is just finishing one of the most complete and up-to-date centralized school buildings in the state. It is a handsome structure costing $25,000. The building contains an auditorium that will seat 600 people and a big basement room, with a southern exposure, which will be used for an agricultural and botanical laboratory. It is thoroughly equipped with light, heat, water and other modern conveniences.

Was ist los mit der isenban?
The Fraternal Order of Eagles had charge of the funeral of Alex McIntosh this afternoon.
Miss Billie Latimer of Chardon spent the past week as the guest of Miss Lillian Woods.
The icy coldness of this campaign is becoming more tropical as election days approach.
Frank Spear has moved from Union street into the St. Senheiser property on High street.

Jonk Longbottom and family spent Sunday in Schwing with their daughter, Mrs. Thos. Stahl.
The Geo. Baker mine near McKee's dam has six miners at work and there is ready sale for the coal.
More than an inch of the beautiful snow covers the face of mother earth as the train conveys this news letter to the Dispatch print shop.
Let every voter in Columbiana county, whether wet or dry, express his opinion on paper at the polls Friday, so that it can be learned how many voters there are.

Rev. F. Lindesmith has enjoined the county commissioners from erecting a culvert in the Gratos part of Leontonia, as he claims it backs water upon his land to its damage. Frank Stouffer has the contract for the culvert and was summoned to Lisbon this afternoon.

J. C. Herbert had his household goods and barber shop furniture taken to Greenford Monday by Howells' moving van, and will follow the tonorial trade there until the first of April. He had a good trade here and conducted himself so pleasantly to his customers that his return to this village will be welcomed at any time that he may find it to his advantage to do so.

Ex-Mayor C. E. Bertelette has announced his name as a candidate for mayor of this village, subject to the decision of the electors next Tuesday. Having received some votes on the Mahoning side at the primaries, his name will be printed upon the ballots, and those who desire to vote for him on the Columbiana county side must write his name in the ticket and make a cross (x) to the left of his name.

J. C. Smith, residing near McKee's dam, has invented a rat trap which never fails, and his only objection to it is that it requires a new trap for every rat. It consists of a sheet of sticky fly paper with a bit of cheese in the center. The rat has to walk upon the paper in order to get the cheese, gets entangled, lies down, rolls over and becomes balled up. Then pick up the paper with Mr. Rat inside, and burn it.
It appears from the testimony reported to me by one of the interested parties that the shooting case west of town, reported last week, is a hoax and only exists in the mind of the person who set the story afloat upon an air ship and dropped it from the clouds. At least no affidavit has been filed and no arrest has been made. The farmer charged with the shooting is a harmless citizen and carries no shooting iron, his fists being large enough to defend himself.
For the twentieth time a Y. & O. car was off the track near the station Tuesday evening after the Erie passenger train had passed southward. On the car was a large bunch of masqueraders from Columbiana on their way to Salem to participate in the Mardi Gras. Having more than an hour to wait here, they lined up and marched into Sattergood & Redinger and Degnan & Higgin's places for refreshments. A belated Halloween was celebrated in Columbiana Wednesday night.

Hallowe'en commenced here this year Monday night, when several outbuildings were thrown over and torn to pieces. Tuesday evening the kids wore false faces and threw corn, while the future statesmen attended the Salem Mardi Gras and the dolls in Leontonia, then came home and repeated their midnight prowling here. When the early Christian church set apart the first day of November as All Saints' (or All Holy) day, the saints of the Middle Ages, all of whom probably did not contemplate the actions of the 20th century in 1911, with the hideous noises and the destruction of property, which keeps peaceably disposed people awake all night.

Leontonia, our sister village on the south, gave a very creditable and satisfactory celebration of All Hallows' evening Tuesday night, and it has been said that the same could have been done here at a cost not to exceed $10. "The real merit of the celebration appears to have been in the street parade in which many Washingtonville people participated. Mr. Crowell won prizes on his wagon and window display. Mrs. Geo. Johnson was given a prize as the best Indian lady. Misses Lydia King, Amanda Bilger, Jennie Maxwell and Freda Paisley, Edwin Johnson, Jacob Parry, Jas. Paisley and Alva Boston were among the most active from here, but Master Leslie Burton was awarded the only prize in this village; his costume represented an American Indian, and the prize was a pocket knife.

COUNTY SEAT NEWSY NOTES

Dished Up in Bright, Breezy Style by Our Special Correspondent.

Nov. 2—It being but four days till election there should be and is considerable evidence indicating some of the results. In the first place it seems evident Attorney D. F. Anderson will be chosen the constitutional delegate for this county, though it does seem hardly possible he will defeat the Hon. J. R. Johnston 6 to 1, as Mr. Anderson is reputed to have said. The other candidates, Wm. F. Maag, Jr., John F. Conroy and Joseph V. Weiss will come in the order named, whereas Mr. Conroy and Mr. Weiss had remained out and thrown their influence in favor of Mr. Maag they would have stood a chance of defeating Mr. Anderson. With five candidates in the field it looks as if he had a cinch. Of course it is not at all likely he'll get the support or vote of attorney Stephen Conroy, but he will get the support and vote of the Personal Workers, of the Rev. Billy Sunday contingent, of many of the temperance element and, of course, a bunch of the republican rank and file who care little or nothing about the church, Billy Sunday, prohibition or Catholicism. Relative to the moral reformers, we can be certain, even though there are but practically two candidates—Edward J. Peebles and F. A. Hartenstein—in the field, the first democrat and the last republican. Politically regularly the city would be republican but it is well to remember that Mr. Hartenstein was once a democrat for this same office and that other republicans since then have been beaten for the office and one of them, Paul Jones, an excellent man, was triumphed over by A. W. Craver. So far the fight against Mr. Hartenstein has been vigorous, charges having been preferred against him in the Vincitor which used in justification the facts set forth in the report made six years ago by the state examiners. Mr. Hartenstein, in a sworn statement made that long ago, denies what now in part appears in the examiners' report. Nothing publicly, or but mere allusion, to the old A.P.A. matter has been argued against him, but it is being employed in a campaign way and to offset its influence in the work for him by the Personal Workers and others who are working tooth and nail for Mr. Anderson. There is some division in the large Italian vote, but it is expected to go largely for Mr. Peebles, though it is a little uncertain quantity. The colored vote will almost solidly be for Mr. Hartenstein, who has the advantage or the opposite of being far more widely acquainted than his opponent, who, on the other hand, has the advantage of having made no political enemies and of having record as a candidate in a man that in truth is unassailable. Notwithstanding the closeness and the near-end of the contest there has not been great manifest interest. There has been a few meagre republican and democrat meetings, but no demonstrations arousing the public from apparent apathy. It has been reported there are two or three republican men offering $100 to $50 on Mr. Hartenstein, but if they are they are doing it considerably on the q. t. Giving encouragement to the democrats is the work being done by the Hon. E. H. Moore, who is here from Columbus with his large experience, valuable counsel, wide influence, careful procedure and magnetism. He and the democrats are also fortunate in the personality, direction and decision of their chairman, John J. O'Connor of the Vincitor.

It was expected, from the ruffle a week or so ago, that this campaign would end up in a whirlwind if not a tornado, but the evidence now is the conclusion will be no more, so far as the local newspapers are concerned, than a very gentle zephyr. It seems everybody is as milk and water now as if he belonged to Quaker church or were a minister of the gospel. It would make such old time vigorous men as Giles Van Hyning, A. F. Moore, John M. Webb, Uncle Billy Dawson and the old Jim Nash decidedly ill. About the only place you find the old-fashioned vigor and vituperation is among the Socialists.

Don't know what you pay for hickory nuts over about Canfield but here you may get 7 pounds for 25c, and they are held to be remarkably cheap. Chestnuts are lower than our year, and it is likely more worms and mould than ever before in this market.

Work on the skyscraper hotel at the corner of Boardman and Hazel, on the site of the old
